CRITERION	RATING	COMMENT
		including the environmental life cycle impacts of the end Product. The main aspects include the reduction of weight and more effective improvements to the aerodynamics of the wheels. The Entity uses advanced production technologies that reduce material consumption and optimise aerodynamics, such as flow forming, performance rim and undercut, which enable a weight reduction of up to 1.5 kilograms per wheel compared to conventional technologies. However, the main design decision rests with the customer and the Entity has only limited influence on the design of its Products.
4.3a-b Aluminium Process Scrap	Conformance	The Entity has implemented systems and programs to recycle nearly 100% of its Aluminium Process Scrap, either within its site or the Borbet Group, or at external partners. 4.4a-c Collection and Recycling of Products at End of Life - Material Conversion and other Manufacturing	Conformance	The Entity has demonstrated its recycling strategy, which is based on the mandatory recycling of vehicles according to the European Directive 2000/53/EC on End of Life Vehicles (ELV). The strategy covers not only the European market but also South Africa, where the Entity is active. The Entity's recycling strategy, including specific timelines, activities and targets is made publicly available in the Sustainability Report 2023, page 34: https://www.borbet.de/medien/files/5939d7415e.pdf
4.4d Collection and Recycling of Products at End of Life	Conformance	In Europe, it is legally mandated that all motor cars are dismantled and recycled as required by the ELV Directive (2000/53/EC). The Entity has demonstrated they engage with collection and recycling systems to increase recycling rates for their Products in areas outside the scope of the ELV Directive. The Entity's Products (Aluminium alloy wheels) are a component of cars and End of Life provisions of these parts are mainly the responsibility of the car manufacturers.
